At the Embassy office for a meeting at nine o'clock. Dean, Bob Lovett, John Snyder, Averell, Frank Nash, Bill Pawley, General Bradley, General Gruenther, and other big shots. As usual, much irritated talk about France.

I lunched with Jimmy Dunn and Minotti, head of the MSA Mission, at the Aviz. Wonderful Portuguese sole. Afterwards we went to the opening of NATO at the National Assembly Palace. Lots of speeches -- including those by the recently admitted Greeks and Turks, and an excellent one by Dean. I talked to some of my French friends, lost my car, got home late, found Vangie couched with a bad cold, and went to bed surrounded by books on Portugal.
